Productivity Boost

4th December, 2012 • 2 Comments • 2 Shares

Elliot Jackson (@ eej) created a wonderful blog post about productivity, which I shameless stole.

Productivity is something that we all strive for but can never seem, to fully achieve it (at least that's my case). I have been studying my workflow recently and have noticed a few of things that I was losing a lot of time on. I have also come across apps that have sped me up tenfold. Here are a few tips that I have picked up.

The wireframe shows a user interface for an 'Interactive Wall' application. On the left is a sidebar with navigation links: Home, Interactive Wall, Paintings, Account, Users, and Roles. The main content area is titled 'Dashboard' and contains a section for 'Paintings'. It displays a table with three rows of data:

ID	Thumbnail	Title	Artist	Actions
1		Mona Lisa	Da Vinci
2		Het Ordeel van Paris	Rubens

Annotations with circled numbers are present: '1' at the top right of the header, '2' at the far right of the delete icon in the third row of the table, and '13' in a green box in the bottom right corner.
